

FIRST STEP IS TAKEN TOWARD
SOLDIER BONUS

Call for Conference of Republican Membership
is Made

BONUS PAID IN 1922

Leaders Adopt Slogan for Passage of Compensation

Washington, Jan. 17.—The first step toward financing soldier bonus
through the sale in this country of four billion dollars worth of British debt bonds was taken today, when Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, the Republican leader of the Senate, issued a call for a conference of the senate's entire republican membership.

The conference of the 60 republican members will be held tomorrow,
when senators Lodge and Curtis,
Republican of Kansas, the Republican "whip" will explain the Republican senatorial plan for underwriting
the British bonds and then offering them to the public as gilt-edge securities that will afford a means of meeting the adjusted compensation
of former American soldiers.

"A soldier bonus paid in 1922," is the slogan of Republican leaders who have set themselves the task of redeeming the administration pledge to ward former soldiers when the bonus
bill was temporarily shelved, last summer.

At that time it was declared that a bonus bill would be passed as soon as the financial situation of the country became justifiable.

At the conference tomorrow the Republican leaders are expected to meet the objections that have been raised toward a payment of the soldiers'
bonus from the sale of foreign debt
bonds, and to solidify Republican lines, so that it will be possible to put the bonus bill through Congress at top speed.

Administration leaders realize that the main task they face in carrying out their program is to win a united senate support. That gained, they expect little trouble in putting the program through Congress.

It was considered likely by Senator
Lodge, today, that the full four billion dollars would not be required.
In that case the margin would be returned to the United States treasury.

BRITISH AND IRISH
DELEGATES START
DRAFTING OF ACT

Irish Soldiers On Guard at Dublin Castle For First Time

Dublin, Jan. 17.—A committee from the Irish provisional government left for London today, to meet the British committee headed by Winston Churchill, British colonial secretary
and assist in the final drafting of the Irish act, which will bring into official existence the Irish free state.

The remaining members of the Irish government conducted their affairs in Dublin Castle, formerly the seat of British authority in Ireland,
and now the headquarters of the government of the Irish free state.
Irish soldiers were on guard
in the castle grounds for the first time in history.

It was announced that a proclamation would be issued later containing the provisional government's declaration of policy.

The evacuation of Ireland by British troops is being speeded up and taken on transports today.

Peace Move In Railroad
Circles May Come Soon

Resumption of "Direct Negotiations" Between Rail Executives and "Big Four" Brotherhoods Looms
as Probable Forward Step.

Washington, Jan. 17.—Resumption of "direct negotiations" between rail
executives and the "big four" brother-hoods loomed today, as a nationwide peace move in the tangled affairs of railroad labor.

The movement awaiting merely formal approval by railroad heads and executive committees of the brother-hoods, was intended as a means of averting a general rail strike this spring. It came as the result of "peace conferences" staged by Secretary of Commerce Hoover.

The plan, which was suggested by the administration, involves the restoration of all pre-war regional conferences. It was the intention of the administration, it was learned today,
to have all outstanding disputes either settled or on the way to settlement
within a month before these regional conferences. By this means administration officials hope to avert strike
movements which now loom ominously.

Bishop Brown to Fight
Charges of Heresy

Bishop William M. Brown, of Ohio, who is to be tried by the Episcopal House of Bishops on charges of heresy. He holds steady-fastly to his beliefs, doubting the existence of Christ, in his latest literary effort, "Communism and Christianity," recently published.
Bishop Brown has long been known to be somewhat socially inclined,
and although never definitely active in the Socialist Party, he is a close friend of Eugene V. Debs, recently released from a Federal Prison at Atlanta.

AMERICAN OFFICER
SHOT SOLDIER IS TESTIMONY GIVEN

Surprised in Attack On Woman Officer Kills
Private

Washington, Jan. 17.—The shooting of a "Yank" at Lemans, France by an American officer, when the soldier surprised the officer in an attack upon French woman, was described in a letter filed today, with the special senatorial investigation committee
when it resumed its probe into charges of senator "Tom" Watson of Georgia.

"The American officer deliberately shot down the American soldier who died in his arms," declared the writer
Fred H. Allen, of Missoula, Montana, who said he was formerly in the British army.

"Military police, attracted by the shot, came up and the American officer said the soldier had been shot by a French Algerian. A court of inquiry returned a verdict of 'brutally shot by a French Algerian'."

Allen said that just before the shooting took place, he, in company with an American soldier, heard the cries of a woman and rushed into a building to find her defending herself against the attacks of the American officer.

"We routed him and later proceeded
down the road," Allen declared.
"The American soldier said he honed
the American officer did not recognize him as they belong to the same unit. Shortly afterward the officer overtook us and shot the American soldier dead." Allen said the officer wore the insignia of the fourth division and that the number of his regiment ended in "eight."

IDENTIFIES MAN
AS ASSAILANT

Cincinnati, Jan. 17.—James Morris, Negro, 21, charged with assault on Mrs. Nettie Griffith, 18, on the night of December 27 last
in a field near her home in Lockland, was arrested last night in Cincinnati by Marshal Wagner, of Lockland, immediately arraigned before Mayor Jones and held to the grand jury without bond. The prisoner was removed under heavy guard to the Hamilton county jail.
Mrs. Griffith positively identified
Morris as her assailant.

DISTURBANCE OF EARTH REPORTED

Washington, Jan. 17.—An earthquake disturbance of a very severe type, lasting for almost two hours, was recorded on the seismograph of Georgetown University observatory here last night and early today.

The disturbances began at 10:58 p. m. and continued until 1 a. m. with the maximum recorded at 11:06 p. m. Observers estimated the disturbance to be 2.4

FINNS SUPPORTED
KARELIAN REVOLT
IS SOVIET CHARGE

Moscow Makes Demands
On That Government
In Note.

Copenhagen, Jan. 17.—The Moscow soviet has sent a note to the Finnish government charging the Finns with supporting the anti-bolshhevik revolt of the Karelians
and making a number of demands upon Finland, said a dispatch from Helsinki today.

(Note.—It was reported last week
from Helsinki that Finland had broken off diplomatic relations with Soviet Russia but this report was evidently incorrect).

The soviet's demands are said to include the following:

- 1.—That the Finnish be closed;
- 2.—Dissolution of all anti-bolsh-
hevik revolutionary organizations;
- 3.—Abolition of all measures for support of the Karelians;
- 4.—Compensation for Russia's expenditures in fighting the Karelians.

The Finnish government is countering with the following demands upon the Moscow government:

- 1.—Punishment of all violators
of the neutrality of Finland's boundaries;
- 2.—Compensation for damage
done to Finland by the Karelian uprising.

The Finnish government also protests against the treatment of Finns in Russia. The racial relationship of the Finns and Karelians
is very close.

SLAYER IS FREED
WITHOUT BOND; TO AID INVESTIGATION

Hamilton, Jan. 17.—Loren
"Slim" Hartzell, 33, Anderson, Ind., was released from Butler County jail here yesterday without bond.
He promised officials he would remain in Hamilton until a probe of the death of Leland Carl Catt, Newark bootlegger, who was shot and killed Thursday night and whose body was found near Columbus Friday morning. Hartzell is charged with manslaughter.

Hartzell, Sunday, confessed to Sheriff Rudy Laubach of Butler
County that he shot Catt when Catt jumped onto the running board of his car and threatened his life at pistol point.

Acting upon advice of Assistant
Prosecutor John Andrews, Coroner
Edward Cook will hold an inquest
to fix responsibility for Catt's death
word from Hamilton yesterday said.

Butler County officials are said
to be willing to accept Hartzell's version of the shooting. No other evidence than that which he has given officials has been found, they declare.

WILL MAKE CHANGES
FOR WOMEN JURORS

Washington, C. H. Jan. 17.—As a result of application of a member to the Jury Commission, the County Commissioners are arranging for changes at the court house which will afford proper accommodations
for women members of juries.

The changes provide for installation of a women's rest room and screen for the jury box.

Inadequate facilities at the court house was the reason, it is announced,
that no women's names were placed in the jury wheel when the commissioner replenished the wheel sometime ago.

With the changes completed
names of women will be placed in the jury wheel and mixed juries will probably try all cases beginning later
this year.

that it will.

Foreign Officials Disagree
With Belief of Premier
Lloyd George

ANXIETY FELT

British Await Declaration
of Policy of France's
New Leaders

London, Jan. 17.—In sharp contrast with Premier Lloyd George's optimistic views over the attitude of the new French cabinet towards the results of the Cannes meeting,
foreign officials declared openly, today, that they feared there was danger
of both supreme council and Washington conference decision being upset.

British officials are waiting with considerable anxiety the reading of the French declaration of policy in Parliament at Paris, on Thursday.
This will give the first official line
on the position that Premier Poincare and his nationalist ministry will take on problems which affect not only France but the rest of Europe
as well.

The fears that France, under her new leaders may overthrow some of the Washington decisions upon naval matters and the far eastern issue are not universally held, but there is a general disposition to believe that Premier Poincare will seek either revision or complete annihilation of some of the results of the supreme council meeting.

The view was advanced in diplomatic circles that the Cannes decision which is most endangered is the tentative scheme for a reparations settlement including a modified moratorium for Germany. Under the indemnity scheme which was suggested by members of the later-called reparations commission, Germany would pay 31,000,000 gold marks every ten days until a new agreement was made.

Premier Poincare and a majority of his ministers are understood to be opposed to anything that savors of a moratorium for Germany.

The near east situation is still in the air. The marquis of Curzon, who consulted with Premier Poincare at Paris yesterday, will return to London without having reached any agreement with France for concerted action towards the Turkish National-alist.

"DIRT FARMER" TO BE PLACED UPON
RESERVE BOARD

Washington, Jan. 17.—Placing of a
"dirt farmer" on the federal reserve
board by authorizing the appointment
of an additional member on the board is provided in a bill introduced in the senate by senator Kellogg, Republican, Minn., as spokesman for the "agricultural bloc." Introduction of the bill followed a White House conference between President Harding and Senator Kellogg, and Senator Kenyon, Republican of Iowa chairman of the "bloc" at which its provisions were agreed upon.

The president was understood to have given positive guarantee that he should appoint a "dirt farmer"
on the board immediately following the enactment of the bill.

PRINCESS WILL MARRY FEB. 28

London, Jan. 17.—Princess Mary's wedding has been definitely set for February 28. The ceremony will be held at Westminster Abbey. It will be the first time that a daughter of the sovereign has been married in the historic church in 640 years.

The marriage will take place in the sanctuary, the bridal procession dividing to pass on each side of the grave of the "unknown warrior."

On account of the prevailing hard-times Mary has instructed the great cities of the United Kingdom that she is unwilling to accept costly wedding presents and asking that the monies raised for the purpose go to charity and unemployment funds.

FIFTY ARE ROUNDED UP IN RAID AFTER FIGHT WITH POLICE

Columbus, Jan. 17.—A wild battle marked the capture by the police of fifty negroes during a raid
at 98 West Randolph Street here.
A dozen officers participated. After being hit by fists, shoes and various objects, the policemen used clubs
on many of those caught in the house which was operated by Lelia Holden.

Among those arrested were 18
women. During the raid, officers found it necessary for the first time in seven years to handcuff
women. It is feared that serious injuries were sustained by officers Charles France, who was kicked in the abdomen. He recently left a hospital where he underwent an abdominal operation.

Family at Bedside of Richard Croker, Who Is Ill

Richard Croker

Richard Croker, former Tam-
many chief, is ill from gallstones,
according to a cable received by John M. Riehl, former president of the National Democratic Club, from Mrs. Croker. The cablegram dated Dublin, read: "Mr. Croker suffering from gallstones. Dr. Lennon, family physician and Surgeon Sir Thomas Myles in attendance.
Daughter, Florence also with her father. Some improvement. No operation anticipated." Mr. Riehl said he had not made any inquiry concerning Mr. Croker's condition and was at a loss to explain the cablegram except on the theory that Mrs. Croker wished to have her husband's friends notified that he was ill again. Mr. Croker is eighty-one years old, and some of his friends here said they had understood the decision not to have an operation,
mentioned in Mrs. Croker's cablegram was caused by his age.

CABINET'S POLICY
OUTLINED BEFORE
FRENCH PRESIDENT

Matter Will Be Laid Before Parliament On Thursday

Paris, Jan. 17.—The new French cabinet today, conferred with President Millerand upon the declaration of policy which will be read to both branches of parliament on Thursday. Premier Poincare will read it in the senate. It will outline the attitude of the ministry on both home and foreign affairs.

It is certain that the hostile political factions in both houses will be ready with their weapons of attack as soon as the declaration of policy is read.

Following the interview of Manquis Curzon, the British foreign secretary with Premier Poincare at the foreign office, it has become apparent that considerable time
must elapse before England and France reach an agreement on the Near East, especially the French treaty with the Turkish nationalist government, which the British bitterly oppose.

Washington, Jan. 17.—Secretary
of the Treasury Mellon appeared yesterday before the house Ways
and means committee to urge favorable action on the resolution to amend the constitution so as to prohibit the issuance of tax exempt
securities by state, city and county governments.

Washington, Jan. 17.—A laboratory for the manufacture of toilet articles and cosmetics may be established in this city or in Jeffersville, according to word received from George D. Brewer, manufacturing
chemist, Youngstown, Ohio.

Mr. Brewer states that he is about to incorporate his business and issue $200,000 stock. If the stock issue is successful, a plant where he may manufacture his products will be established in either of the two places mentioned, he declared.

Ford Will Not Enter
Politics Again, He Says

Manufacturer Denies Reports of His Purchase of Seaboard Air Line—Plans Establishing Factories
In Russia and Germany Soon

Cleveland, Jan. 17.—"I'll never run again for political office," Thus Henry Ford, billionaire manufacturer here, today, disposed of reports that he might run again for the senate or perhaps even seek the presidency. "As a matter of fact," he continued, "I never was in politics. I made my race for the senate because
Mr. Wilson thought I might forward ideals of peace in which we both believed."

Ford, who arrived here last night,
from Buffalo, left here early this morning for Springfield, and from that city will return to Detroit. He made the long trip in his Lincoln car, smilingly explaining that he used his Ford in Detroit, but preferred the heavier car for longer trips.

Mr. Ford denied reports published yesterday that he intended to purchase the Seaboard Air line in connection with his projected development of the Muscle Shoals power project.
"I do not understand the rise in price of their shares, yesterday,"
he said, "but it's certain that I am not going to buy the road."

The Ford Motor Company plans the establishment soon of factories in Russia and Germany to supply the trade there with cars.

"My engineers have been looking over possible sites on the Baltic and will be back soon with their reports,"
he said. "Others have been scouring Germany seeking idle factories, but they have cable me that there is not an idle factory in all Germany. Germany as some one else has said is
'nationally bankrupt, but individually wealthy.' The individual there got his money out of the country before the government could confiscate it."

Unless Congress and the administration accept the Ford bid for the Muscle Shoals project, Mr. Ford said, it would be necessary for him to seek
a lower tariff and import his steel.

"I don't care a snap what they do
with it," he said, his eyes flashing,
as he discussed his bid. "I've made my offer, let them accept it or reject it."

The manufacturer sees in President Harding's plan for an association of nations only the League of Nations, under another name. "I believe he said, 'that the League has more vitality, today, than it ever had and that eventually all nations
will become members of it.'"

RELIGIOUS RITES
ARE FORBIDDEN

Mansfield, Jan. 17.—All religious rites are absolutely forbidden at his funeral, in the will of Henry J. Hess, 71, who was buried at Lexington Monday. He was born in France and it is claimed studied for the priesthood. When the United States went dry, friends say Hess went to Cuba where he contracted fever
which finally resulted in his death.
He died in his little shoe repair shop at Lexington. The funeral services which were held at the mortuary, were in charge of attorney George W. Biddle who read Thanatopsis as the funeral oration.

FOREIGNERS HAVE
VIRTUALLY BOUGHT
GERMANY IS WORD

High Lights of of Speech of Dr. Rathenau is Made Public.

Berlin, Jan. 17.—The International News Service is able, today, to reveal the high lights of Dr. Walter Rathenau's speech before the allied super-preme council at Cannes when he passionately pleaded Germany's financial cause and promised German cooperation in any international or private syndicate for the reconstruction of world economies.

"It is utterly impossible to fix
the German internal budget until the mark is stabilized," Dr. Rathenau told the council. "Every new fall of the mark upsets our budget still further.
Our country is gradually absorbing itself—it is living upon its own substance."

"We have an 'invisible' unemployment army" today of 4,000,000 doing work which was formerly unnecessary. It is a mistake to say that we are hoarding goods.

"Due to the fall of the mark foreigners have practically bought out Germany. Our money has become the football of international speculation."

"Germany has always been an orderly country, but passed through and lost a war and then passed through a revolution. We feel the resulting abnormal conditions—conditions which we ourselves sincerely desire to remove."

Dr. Rathenau, who was former minister for reconstruction in the German cabinet, is considered the foremost expert on economics in the country. He headed the German delegation of experts which went to Paris to consult with the inter-
allied reparations commission and later headed another delegation to Cannes
to furnish the supreme council with information as to Germany's financial and industrial position.

Mystery Surrounds Delegates' Position as to Famous 21 Demands.

SHANTUNG FIRST

That Question Must Be Settled Before Other Issues Considered.

Washington, Jan. 17.—After sailing
through comparatively smooth waters
for several weeks with prospects of a quiet landing the last of January,
the armament conference appeared to be nearing the rocks of controversy
represented by Japan's ambitious program of expansion in the far east.

Considerable mystery surrounds
the conference attitude on the famous 21 demands which Japan forced upon China in 1915 by means of a 48 hour
ultimatum and the acceptance of which by China consolidated Japan's position in Manchuria and Inner Mongolia, and gave her a predominant position throughout the Orient.

In the face of the announced
Chinese intention of presenting the 21 demands, the conference powers have been compelled to announce that they would "receive consideration"
but the degree to which they will be considered remained a mystery, today, that can only be solved by the settlement of the Shantung controversy and subsequent events.

Secretary of States Hughes is determined to make as much progress
as possible before picking up the highly dangerous issue of the 21 demands.

This was the explanation put forward, today, in American quarters
for the statement that Shantung
must be settled before there can be any discussion of the demands. American officials believe that once it is out of the way, both Japanese and the controversial issue of Shantung
China will be in a mood to approach
the 21 demands without so much danger of a disastrous flare-up.

In Japanese quarters however,
there appeared today to be no weakening of their previously announced position—that the 21 demands were accepted by China, that the full exercise of her sovereignty, that they have been ratified by the recognized treaties and that this ends the matter.

Golf enthusiasts, from old timers to the amateur just beginning to learn the strokes, will be given opportunity to improve their game during the idle time when play on the course is impossible. Lessons may be taken from the instructor on days which he may designate or in the evenings.

A court, with nets to stop all wild shots, will be arranged in the building in the arranging of a modern indoor golf school.

Other officers were elected also the same as during the past year. They are Carl H. Kupperdorf, vice president; H. L. Kupperdorf, secretary and W. B. Schawe, treasurer. These four officers compose the directorate of the company. No other important action was taken at the meeting.

TRAVELING MAN HAS STOMACH RECONSTRUCTED

Fainting Spells and Distress Relieved by Jaques' Little Wonder Capsules

"Last October," writes Walter Furman, traveling salesman of Richmond Springs, N. Y., "when I was in Plattsburg I was bothered a lot with indigestion, dyspepsia and a bloated feeling brought on by excess eating. Fainting spells would attack me suddenly, and I was in dire distress. In seeking relief, I was advised to try JACQUES' LITTLE WONDER CAPSULES. This I did and before reaching the hotel that night for retiring I had decided relief. I felt so much better the following morning that I purchased an additional box, and found that one capsule following each meal has since reconstructed my stomach and now feel remarkably well. My brother-in-law recently had an acute attack of indigestion, something that often troubled him, and within a few minutes after swallowing two of the capsules he was relieved."

If you are one of the suffering ones you can still save your stomach by using Jaques' Little Wonder Capsules. Just swallow one or two capsules and you will find prompt relief. The pure gelatin covering dissolves within one or two minutes after reaching the stomach, releasing the finely powdered medicines to do their effective work. One capsule aids in digesting 5,000 grains of food.

If you are bothered with indigestion, dyspepsia, catarrh of the stomach, sour stomach, dizziness after eating, gas, biliousness or constipation try this valuable prescription.

Twelve days' treatment costs but 60 cents. Jaques' Little Wonder Capsules are sold under a strict guarantee of satisfactory results or money refunded.

On sale by D. D. Jones, 43 East Main St., Xenia, Ohio; or 60 cents by mail postpaid for large package from Jaques Capsule Co., Plattsburg, N. Y.

DEVALERA DECLARES HE OPPOSED TREATY BECAUSE IT IS BARRIER TO COMPLETE IRISH INDEPENDENCE; SCORES ACTION

Dublin, Jan. 17.—Eamonn De Valera, "former" president of the Irish republic, refused to accept the Anglo Irish peace treaty because he believes it is not a stepping stone but a barrier to complete independence for Ireland.

DeValera made this statement today in the first authorized interview he has given out since the opening of the Irish peace negotiations.

DeValera spoke carefully and slowly, weighing every word before he uttered it. The correspondent opened up the interview with a question which is being asked by many throughout Ireland, namely, why he refused to accept the Anglo-Irish treaty. DeValera paced up and down for several minutes, with his hands behind his back, then he snapped out this reply:

"Because it is not a stepping stone, but a barrier in the way of complete independence. If this treaty be completed and the Irish act resulting from it, was accepted by Ireland it certainly will be maintained that a solemn, binding contract has been entered into voluntarily by the Irish people and Britain will seek to hold us to that contract."

"It would be cited against the claims to independence by every future Irish leader. A little over a year ago when I sought official recognition from the government of the United States I was able to plead as a basis Ireland's right to free national self determination; and that the people of Ireland constituted a distinct and separate nation ethnically and historically, and as attested by every other standard of political science. I was able to contend that the Irish never voluntarily accepted British rule or authority but consistently challenged it through centuries."

"These statements could not, at that time, be challenged. Circumstances surrounding the so-called act of union of 1800 were so notorious that no informed person would seriously hold that act constituted a valid contract."

"In Irish history there is not a single instance of the Irish people voluntarily bending the knee to British authority. Ireland's moral case is perfect. There never was a spiritual surrender."

"Now this treaty, if ratified by the people, will determine our whole national position. Our people do not realize this."

"The nationalists who support the present treaty are of two classes:

A SWEET LITTLE BABY BOY

Makes a Bright Spot in Every Home. A Comfort in Years to Come

Park Rapids, Minnesota.—"I have taken your medicine—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—when I was a girl for pains and before and after my marriage. I now have a sweet little baby boy and will send you his picture if you wish to publish it. My sisters also take your medicine and find it a great help, and I recommend it to those who suffer before their babies are born."—Mrs. Wm. JOHNSON, Box 155, Park Rapids, Minn.

To marry and arrive at middle age without children is a great disappointment to many women. Think of the joy and comfort other women have in their children as they grow older.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped to bring great happiness to many families by restoring women to health. Often the childless home is due to a run down condition of the wife, which may be helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It brought health and happiness into the home of Mrs. Johnson. Why not to yours?

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take a glass of Salts if your Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

First, those of whom President Griffith may be regarded as typical who are prepared to accept the freedom promised by the treaty as full satisfaction for our national claims; second, those like Mike Collins, who would have us accept the treaty simply as a further installment from Britain.

"But both are wrong, for on the one hand it is incomplete satisfaction on the other in the guise of treaty or contract, it cannot be accepted in the light of an installment."

"To the world it will be made to appear that the Irish people, who three years ago declared in the most solemn manner their independence and who now voluntarily abandon their independence and republican form of government, accept instead inclusion in the British empire with all its implications with the people of Britain to accept the British monarch and imperial parliament as the fount of all authority. The summing up of the plain people is that the treaty will leave them free from English interference as are the peoples of Canada, Australia and Africa, but Ireland is not 3,000 or 6,000 or 9,000 miles away from England. Ireland is not a huge continent like Canada, Africa and Australia that could support and develop a popu-

tion larger than the United States and which England consequently is unlikely to challenge. Nor are the historical relations between Britain and these countries the same as the historical relations of Ireland and Britain.

"To recognize the British king as a sort of president of an association or league of nations is one thing, to accept him as king of Ireland and the sovereign source of all authority in Ireland and to swear allegiance to him and promise fidelity to him is another."

The question was asked: "But how about your alternative oath embodied in your proposal known as document number 2?" "DeValera waved a copy of document number 2 in my face. He walked up and down and then continued: "Look at document number 2."

You find no oath proposed at the cabinet meeting when I criticized the British proposals. I said the oath they proposed was impossible. I said we could not accept it. It was held by some of the delegates that the British were insisting upon an oath of some kind. I suggested that if the oath were the only difference, it would not be difficult to frame one we could make.

"The counter proposals from our side were for an agreement based upon: "First, a constitution in which the source of all authority would be the Irish people and there would be no British authority, crown or otherwise, direct or indirect.

"Second, an external association of this independent Ireland with the major states of the British government for certain affairs of common concern with the same status in the association as Great Britain has.

"Third, recognition of the British king as head or president so to speak of the association.

"These being the proposals, an oath to obey this constitution which was very different from the constitution in the treaty, would have been consistent and not impossible. My attitude was and is that any contract I am willing to make, I am willing to take an oath to keep."

What Have "Boiling Points" to Do with Starting a Cold Motor?

TO start your motor easily and to pick up speed quickly requires the use of a fuel having a sufficient proportion of light, volatile fractions. These fractions vaporize at a low temperature—they have a low boiling point—and they ignite easily in the cylinder. A gasoline possessing this quality is especially necessary in cold weather to avoid excessive and harmful drains on the battery.

But the gasoline you use should possess more than just the low boiling point fractions, or it will produce only a small amount of power. It should have an adequate proportion of heavy fractions which vaporize at a high temperature, so that the engine may produce maximum power and mileage. Then to connect the light and the heavy fractions—to fuse the low boiling point with the high boiling point—and so insure fast smooth acceleration—there should also be an adequate proportion of increasingly heavy fractions.

In short, the gasoline you use should have a complete chain of boiling points. It should have this "complete chain" for the same reason that a grate fire should be laid with paper, shavings and coal. The illustration below will explain this fully.

Red Crown Gasoline has the complete chain of boiling points. The low initial boiling point—like the paper in the grate—gives quick, easy starts. The intermediate boiling points—the "kindling"—give smooth acceleration. And the high-boiling points—the "coal"—give full power and mileage.

Avoid carburetor and engine trouble this winter by using a uniform, high-grade fuel—Red Crown. Have your carburetor set for Red Crown, and then use only Red Crown. Buy at service stations and garages.

Every Time the Spark Jumps It Sets Off a Well-Laid Fire—

1. You touch a match to the paper. The fire starts.
2. The paper lights easily and burns rapidly. In burning it creates sufficient flame to light the kindling wood.
3. The kindling wood burns. A little heat begins to flow through the room.
4. The coal finally catches and the fire is "going." Full heat now circulates through the room.
5. This process takes considerable time.

1. A sizzling spark leaps.
2. The low boiling point fraction of the gas lights easily. It burns and ignites the next higher boiling point fraction. Your motor starts easily in any weather.
3. The middle range of boiling point fractions burn, one after another. Your motor accelerates smoothly.
4. The highest boiling-point fractions are burned. Your motor develops full power at all speeds.
5. This all happens in the twinkling of your eye.

Note: The "boiling point" of a liquid is simply the temperature on the Fahrenheit thermometer at which it will begin to boil or go off in the form of vapor. In distilling a given quantity of gasoline refiners ascertain at what point each 10% of the liquid will boil until the entire quantity is boiled away or evaporated. In this way is determined what is known as the initial boiling point, the final boiling point and all intervening boiling points.

OHIO TO WITNESS FIGHT AGAINST VOLSTEAD LAW

Cleveland, Jan. 17.—As speakers of state and nation-wide prominence sounded ringing challenges to the dry forces to swing into action at an all-day meeting of the Constitutional Loyalty convention here yesterday, a movement to force repeal of the Volstead act was launched by the National Association against the Prohibition Amendment, meeting at another hotel.

According to Captain William H. Stayton, managing vice president of the National Association Against the Prohibition Amendment a campaign will be waged next fall under the terms of the referendum law to permit the sale of 2.75 per cent beer and light wines. If opinion has changed in Ohio, the campaign will be carried to other states, Mr. Stayton said.

Under the referendum if 230,000 voters petition the state, any question may be submitted to the voters. Captain Stayton said his organization has a membership of more than 250,000, of whom 5000 are in Ohio.

Cleveland was selected as the state headquarters, with Major Fred W. Marcolin, manager. Branches have been established in Cincinnati, Columbus, Sandusky and Toledo, it was said.

The challenge of the National Association Against the Prohibition Amendment will be accepted with "an organized fight in every county in the state," James A. White, superintendent of the Ohio Anti-Saloon League, declared in an address at the Constitutional Loyalty convention.

SMALL AUDIENCE

WITNESSES SHOW

Frances Farr and her "Pacemakers" amused a crowd that half-filled the Opera House, Monday night, in "Bits of Burlesque," an extravaganza that would have been good, if there had been an orchestra in place of the property piano in the pit.

Miss Farr lived up to her character name of Lotta Pep and Miss Dolly Webb and Miss Lida Eldredge, had pleasing voices which could be heard when the piano was silent. Frank Damsel, the lead comedian, was poor in makeup and lines, Jack Lamont, the Hebrew character, bearing up the comic end of the burden.

The chorus was unusually good, and the costume changes were rapid, introducing many pleasing garment concoctions.

COMMUNITY CHEST DRIVE WILL START ON NEXT MONDAY

The Xenia Community Chest drive

will be launched, next Monday. This was the announcement made, Tuesday, by the committee in charge of the solicitation of funds which has the endorsement of local charitable and welfare organizations.

Tentative plans call for a general solicitation of Xenia city, for a fund of $10,000 to be known as the Xenia Community Chest, which will be used in helping to relieve poverty and want in the city. The largest part of the fund will go directly to the Social Service League to provide means for the work of that organization in its fight to relieve want and to get at and correct so far as possible the underlying causes of indigency.

The remainder of the amount or about three tenths will be used by the Opportunity School of this city, which it is understood, is badly in need of equipment and furnishings. The campaign was formerly announced at the banquet of the Social Service League, January 9, but owing to the fact that the organization committees were not fully completed the drive was postponed.

Arrangements, now made, call for a week of solicitation beginning January 23 and running through Sunday, January 29. It is the desire of the committee that the city be entirely covered by the workers, and that the $10,000 goal be passed at the date set for the windup of the campaign. Teams will do the canvassing and leaders to be appointed will make daily reports at luncheon at the Elk's Club. The amounts raised daily will be registered on a clock dial at the Court House.

DIRECT AFFRONT GIVEN PREMIER

London, Jan. 17.—The first official move towards breaking the political coalition which put Premier Lloyd George in power took place today, when the Unionist (tory) committee voted 73 to 1, against a general election until the house of lords is reformed.

This is considered a direct affront to Premier Lloyd George. The Unionists want the proposed election put off until autumn.

There is much gossip in political clubs over the outcome of the political quarrel and the possibility of Premier Lloyd George resigning.

12,000,000 AUTOMOBILES

According to some interesting statistics recently made public by an expert of one of the large companies, the public may be interested to know that since the inception of the automobile industry, about 25 years ago, the number of cars manufactured is approximately 12,000,000. Nearly 775,000 have been exported and it is estimated that at least 2,000,000 have been worn out and scrapped.

This brings us down to the present registration of something over nine millions.

Taking the United States 1920 census, 75 per cent of the total population are never likely to own automobiles for various reasons.

This leaves something over 20,000,000 who may be termed prospects in general, but of this total we find at least 3,000,000 engaged in occupations, such as soldiers, sailors, servants and others, that preclude them in the majority from owning cars.

Of the remaining 17,000,000 more than half already have automobiles and of the 8,000,000 who haven't the census figures show that more than 80 per cent of them earn less than $2,000 a year.

In this way it is evident that the bulk of new car sales, except, perhaps, in the light car class, may be looked for in replacements, and inasmuch as the life of a car averages about five seasons, the actual need is about a million cars a year from this source alone.

The expert also points out that the country's vast tire requirements of three new tires a car each year the nation needs nearly 30,000,000 new tires annually.

CONDITIONS BRIGHTENING

A number of developments in the trend of business, generally, give rise to well-founded reasons for optimism at this time.

Prominent in this connection is the banking situation. For many months there has been a steady increase in the gold reserve of the Federal Reserve System, while at the same time, there has been a reduction of loans by members banks at the central institutions. This has resulted in an easing up of the credit situation, an acute factor in the automotive industry.

From government reports on the value of farm crops, it is estimated that the farmer will receive approximately 30 per cent less from this year's crop and the cotton growers about 42 per cent less. However the money received from crops last year was largely used in liquidating debts while the money from this year's planting will be used more largely for purchasing new machinery, new automobiles and other necessities.

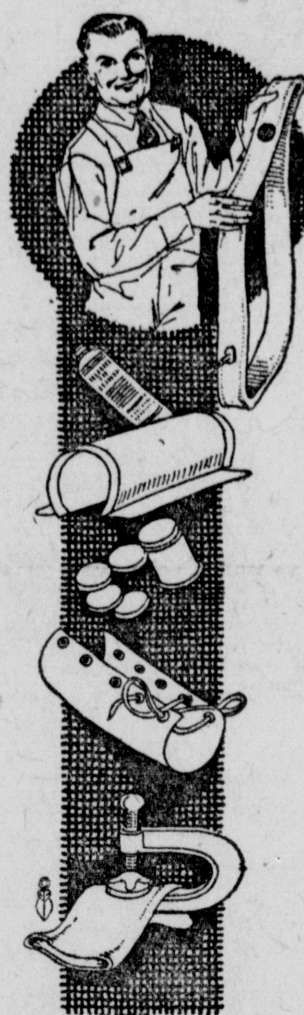

That farmers already are getting back into the market is shown by the latest reports of mail order houses and chain stores, the majority of which show a better sales report for the last few weeks than at any time for a year or more.

Expansion in other business, besides the automotive industry, also is noticeable particularly in iron, steel, glass, cement and textiles.

Activity by the Department of Commerce is an encouraging sign. That department has organized 73 per cent of the automobile and truck manufacturers for foreign trade expansion.

THREE CARS WRECKED DAILY.

Lewis Dorman of the Ohio Auto Parts and Gear Company, Columbus, O., says that, while the number of autos sold for junk has not increased any, he believes that it would occasion considerable surprise to the average person to know how many cars are sold to wrecking companies each month. "Some of these machines have been in wrecks," said Mr. Dorman, "but most of them are merely 'old timers' that are unfit for further use. We wreck three machines daily and all parts that are fit for further use are saved. And while there is not much sentiment about the passing of the old automobile as it comes to the hands of its wrecker, equipped with sledge hammer and cold chisel, if it were not for the salvage of its valuable parts, many an owner of a car that is still good would be compelled to pay very high prices for some vitally necessary part that is readily and cheaply provided from the stock of the automobile wrecking concern."

ARMS PARLEY UNAFFECTED BY BRIAND'S RESIGNATION.

Aristide Briand's sensational and spectacular disappearance from the French premiership takes Washington's breath away. His retirement, either forced or voluntary, had been anticipated in initiated American and Conference circles as a remote possibility. Few were prepared for the summary action which the cables from Paris announced. M. Briand's relinquishment of the helm is generally and genuinely deplored in Washington. He made friends here on all hands. They came to look upon him as a sane and safe leader for the republic in the anxious days that await France and Europe.

No fears are entertained either in American or French quarters in Washington that Briand's retirement will affect Conference decisions already taken. M. Albert Sarraut chief of the French delegation, was Minister of the Colonies in the Briand Cabinet. He disappears from office with his chief, but he stated he expected to "carry on" as principal plenipotentiary of France, at least until Briand's successor deprives him of authority. Unless the new Ministry, which is expected to be headed by M. Poincare, decides upon radical changes in French policy, well-informed persons believe M. Sarraut will be permitted to act for France until the Conference ends.

FOR LAW ENFORCEMENT.

Harry M. Daugherty, Attorney General of the United States, has addressed to the Attorney General of each state a letter requesting close co-operation between state and federal officials, particularly in the enforcement of the prohibitory laws and laws against profiteering in the necessities of life. He suggested that the state officials call conferences between federal and county district attorneys in order to avoid duplication of effort in prosecuting offenders. The co-operation sought, he declared, would not only insure a reduction in expenditures, but also a more prompt enforcement of law, as well as a uniformity in proceedings, sentences and fines.

The Department of Justice is to conduct a nation-wide investigation into retail prices on food, clothing and fuel and the Attorney General announced that state and county prosecutors would be relied upon to follow it up, since Federal officials in most cases are powerless to act because few of the profiteers engage in interstate transactions which bring them within federal jurisdiction.

ACKNOWLEDGE THE GIFTS.

The postoffice department has one more request to make of the public before the Christmas mail of 1921 is declared a closed incident. Mr. Hays asks that people who received gifts by mail acknowledge them promptly so that the department may be relieved a little of the flood of tracers which overwhelms the post-offices every year after Christmas.

It is a practical suggestion for co-operation of the public with the postoffice. It is also a hint to lazy and selfish people to brush up their manners and acknowledge the kindness of their friends promptly, instead of delaying until the sender and the postal authorities are put to the trouble of sending out tracers for gifts which already have been delivered.

FAITH EVEN IN THE DARKNESS.

Job 11:7. "Canst thou by searching find out God?" A few years ago, when wireless telegraphy was just beginning to be spoken of, in a conversation with Signor Marconi, I asked him what he knew about it. His instant answer was: "I don't know a thing about it; I'm working in the dark. Of course, the power behind it is electricity; but what electricity is nobody can find out. Nevertheless, it is there; and my purpose is simply to harness this mysterious force to the business of life and somehow make a commercial asset of it."

That sort of philosophy ought to work equally well in religion; assuming, of course, that religion is a practical fact for sensible people. The only reason why we have Marconigrams today is because Marconi was sensible enough to accept something as a fact, without being able to explain it.

DO YOU KNOW?

It is estimated that one-third of the drug stores in Brooklyn, N. Y., are owned by former saloonkeepers, who have gone into this business since the adoption of prohibition.

Health Talks

By John B. Huber, AMMD

"NOTHING BUT A COLD" The neglected cold, considering its consequences, is the most serious of human ailments. Could its sum total in suffering, money loss, inconvenience, in its infection danger and in the fatalities which are oftentimes, though perhaps remotely, sequel to it—could this sum total be properly appreciated, no one in his sense would say the common cold is a trifling thing. The common cold leads to, predisposes to many diseases by weakening the body and destroying the properties protective against germs inherent in the mucous membranes of the nose and throat. The common cold leads preeminently to consumption and pneumonia. The Captain of the Men of Death, and his first lieutenant pneumonia, account between them for more than half of all human mortality. "Colds seem to be the exclusive privilege of civilization. The human race probably didn't begin to snuffle much until it began to build houses and to wear clothes. The next step toward the handkerchief era was when houses began to be heated. Then, instead of a glorious, healthy, vigorous battling with the elements, people crowded into their super-heated dwellings; and then they began to know the nature of colds. Fresh air abounds all over the surface of God's earth, except in the houses which man has built. Not fresh air, but the want of it, is the cause of many diseases, the initiation into which are colds.

"The stove is a mesmerist that plays no small part in the reduction of human beings to a state of idiocy. The mephitic vapors in the atmosphere of a crowded room contribute in no small degree to bring about a gradual deterioration of intelligence; the brain that gives off the largest quantity of nitrogen asphyxiates the others, in the long run." Quoted this from an up to date book on hygiene? Not at all; the romancer de Balzac wrote it 70 years before our modern systems of sanitation were even dreamed of. Yet what could be sounder in science or in common sense today?

IT'S BECOMING JUST A LITTLE DIFFICULT TO CATCH THEIR MEANING

IT DOESN'T SOUND A BIT LIKE THE FRENCH WE LEARNED WHEN WE WERE "OVER THERE."

1902--Twenty Years Ago--1922

A conference was held in this city, last night, among several officials of the Little Miami railroad. It is understood that they are trying to solve the difficulty of keeping freight on the move.

Miss Alice Rinck, of the store of Jobe Bros. & Co., is taking her vacation and will spend part of the time seeing the sights while visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Schweibold of Cincinnati avenue, entertained a number of their friends in a pleasant manner, yesterday at a dinner party.

Mrs. Robert D. Adair, of N. Galloway Street, is spending a few days in Wilmington.

Officer Ben Chambliss, who has been a patrolman on the Xenia police force for the past seventeen months has tendered his resignation.

Styles BY LENORE

There is a hint of early Spring in a smart tailor designed for wear at the fashionable mid-winter resorts of Florida, California, and other southern points where Americans of means play at forgetting the rigors of a northern winter. The material used is duvety in a happy shade of light maple. The lines, as the sketch indicates, are of the Russian blouse type, with skirt that reaches well down toward the ankles.

Most interesting of all, however, is the novel treatment of the blouse, which is arranged in inverted pleats, two in the front and two in back, with the edges close together and held in place with brown silk straddle stitches below the shoulders and on the peplum. The sleeve is treated in the same way, with a single pleat, the stitching at wrist producing a flare effect to the cuff. And the same idea is carried into the skirt. Note the jaunty bell collar, which is faced with brown. The belt is of self-material with metal clasp.

BAD COLDS LEAD TO PNEUMONIA

Nash's Salve Probably Saved Thousands of Lives in Flu Epidemic

Influenza followed by dread pneumonia has about had its day. Medical science has found the way to end it. Soon, no doubt, it will be as positively controlled and no more feared than la grippe. During the epidemics of two and three years ago Nash's Salve undoubtedly prevented uncounted cases of influenza from going into pneumonia.

Most people already know how to use this salve for colds. Remarkable results secured by the simple treatment and praise of Nash's, "That Stronger Kind," are heard at every hand.

Doctors like Nash's Salve, because, being applied externally, it is absolutely harmless and will not interfere with medicine being taken for other ailments. Users like Nash's Salve because it gets quick results and restores them to good health in a few hours.

Druggists like Nash's Salve because it is guaranteed to please, or money will be refunded. Get a 30 or 60-cent bottle today. You will find it at D. D. Jones' or the nearest drug store.

DISCUSS PLANS FOR HARD SURFACE PIKE

The proposition of making a hard surface road of the Yellow Springs pike, between Yellow Springs and Springfield, will be discussed at a meeting of the Clark County Commissioners, with persons living along the pike, Wednesday evening. The meeting will be held at the New Possum school building at seven thirty o'clock.

The Clark County Commissioners are planning the construction of a number of hard roads if the permissions of the abutting property owners can be obtained. After the hard roads are built, the state stands the expense of maintaining them, it is understood.

The assessments for the work will affect everyone's living within one mile of the road on either side. The residents along the Yellow Springs pike, whether they are for or against the proposition are requested to attend the meeting, Wednesday night.

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, head aches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit. 15c and 30c.

RAVEN TRESSES.

I had all kinds of glossy ringlets, until five years ago; they might have been admired by kinglets, so richly did they grow. Think not it vain if one confesses to glories passed away! And I was proud of those dark tresses without a thread of gray. Oh, others had patrician faces, and some had princely frames, and some had all the airs and graces that captivate the dames. But I had hair so dark and waving, and such a splendid stand, it used to set the painters raving, and bards declared it grand. But now such hair no more I harbor, it shriveled and it shrunk, it wilted when the village barber applied his tonic punk. He said to me, "Your hair is falling, it's losing gloss and shine; your scalp's diseased and it is calling for my restorer fine. It's mae of barks and buds and grasses, and glue and donkey's milk; when it is used your ailment passes, and hair grows fine as silk." When he applied the hair restorer the hair all left my dome; and on my scalp the elm tree borer now digs its winter home. My sorrow is beyond abating, my cheeks are wet with tears, and like a rink for roller skating my old bald dome appears. I sit beneath my vine and cedar, and cry, devoid of hope, "Beware the nostrum, gentle reader, beware the unknown dope!"

BAPTIST MINISTERS OF DAYTON SEND WORD TO REV. READ

A resolution expressing regret over the loss to this district of Rev. Albert Read, for 22 years pastor of the First Baptist Church of this city, who will leave for Van Wert, Ohio, this week, has been received by the Reverend Read, from the Ministers' Conference of the Dayton Baptist Association. The message follows:

By a unanimous and very hearty vote, the Ministers' Conference of the Dayton Baptist Association, meeting in the First Church, Dayton, Ohio, January 4, 1922, appointed the undersigned as a special committee to prepare and present an expression of the sentiments of the Conference, in view of the removal of Rev. Albert Read from this Association by reason of his acceptance of the pastorate of the Church at Van Wert.

"For continuous service and length of time, his pastorate of twenty-two years in Xenia holds the record, so far as we are aware, of men now active in the Baptist ministry of Ohio. And, moreover, our Brother Read is still in the prime vigor of his manhood."

"During the long and successful pastorate, he has greatly endeared himself, not only to his brethren in the ministry and to his Church and to his city, but also far beyond the limits of his parish. Frequent demands have always been made upon him as a popular speaker on a variety of occasions, locally and throughout the State. During several recent years, he has been one of the comparatively few men who could be safely selected for personal reasons to respond to some such topic as this: 'The Value of a Long Pastorate.'"

"An Englishman by birth, and a graduate of Spurgeon's College, he began his ministry with his feet upon secure foundations. By nature and by training, he is a student and a scholar, and yet unlike some high-brows, he has never been disposed to wander from the faith of his fathers in his warm devotion to the great verities of the gospel. Clear and convincing as teacher and preacher, he has been conspicuously useful in the cure and care of souls."

"Mr. Read is one of the best informed men as to our denominational organizations and objectives. In him, the leaders of our national and state enterprises have ever found a constructive helper in the various advance movements of our Baptist brotherhood."

"Recognizing the many attractive qualities of his mind and heart-qualities that have drawn us into a delightful fellowship with him, we wish to record our sincere regret that we are to lose Brother Read from the Dayton Association. But we commend him to the fraternal friendship of the brethren in the Auglaize Association and invoke upon him and his abiding blessing of God in his new and important field."

In the service of Christ.

To Make Rich Red Blood

Revitalize your worn-out exhausted nerves and increase your strength and endurance take Organic Iron, not metallic iron which people usually take, but pure organic iron—Nuxated Iron—which is like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples. One dose of Nuxated Iron is estimated to be approximately equivalent (in organic iron content) to eating one-half quart of spinach, one quart of green vegetables or half a dozen apples. It is like taking extract of beef instead of eating pounds of meat. Nuxated Iron is partially predigested and ready for almost immediate absorption and assimilation by the blood, while metallic iron is just as it comes from the action of strong acids on small pieces of iron filings.

Over 4,000,000 people annually are using Nuxated Iron. It will not injure the teeth nor disturb the stomach. A few doses will often commence to enrich your blood. Your money will be refunded by the manufacturers if you do not obtain satisfactory results.

Beware of substitutes. Always insist on having genuine organic iron—Nuxated Iron. Look for the letters N. I. on every tablet. Sold by all druggists.

ARMY OFFICERS MUST PASS BLOOD TEST OR BE RETIRED.

For the first time since 1917 examinations of blood tests took place on Governors Island recently. Failure to pass the examination meant retirement from the army. The photograph shows an officer being examined by Lieut.

tenant-Colonel Edward R. M. C., and Major H. L. Kraft. Captain Oscar Nettles, M. C., is taking notes. These three men are the chief examiners who will pass on the 300 officers who are undergoing the test.

A Column for Card Players and Question Box— Conducted by Hoyle, Jr.

"Know the leads and when to make them. Know the tricks and when to take them. Know the rules and when to break them. Know the laws and ne'er forsake them."

Ace is high and deuce low in the play of the cards. You must follow suit, but holding no card of the suit led you may either trump or discard.

A no-trump declaration makes each card worth its face value, and the highest card of the suit led wins the trick.

There are two scores to be played for, trick and honor, penalties and bonuses in addition.

The trick score is credited to the side that wins more than six tricks. The honor score is to the side that holds the majority of the honors.

The object of the game is to score more points than your adversaries, tricks and honors combined, by taking as many tricks as possible.

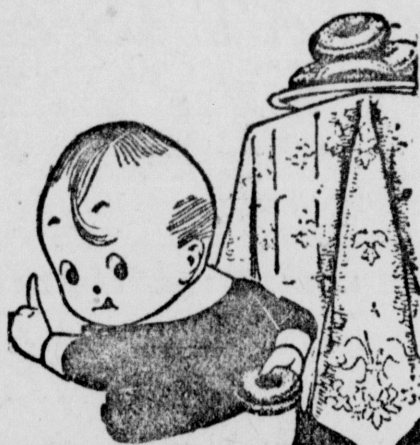

This is done by winning the Rubber.

There are three ways in which tricks are taken:

1. By high cards—that is, by playing the highest card of the suit led.

2. By "ruffing" or "trumping"—that is, by playing a trump on a plain suit, when no card of the suit led is held in the hand.

3. By "establishing" and "bringing in" a long suit. A suit is "established" when the highest unplayed cards of that suit are held in the hand, and these cards will take all the remaining unplayed cards of that suit. An established suit may be received on the deal, for instance, Ace, King, Queen, and Jack, with or without other cards, or it may be necessary to force one or more high cards out before the suit is established. For instance, if Queen, Jack, Ten, and one or more smaller cards are held, the Ace and King must be played before the suit is established.

PURE FOODS

Housewives that realize the value of pure foods—that take special pride in uniform and wholesome bakings, never fail to use

CALUMET BAKING POWDER

You have positive proof of the purity—contains only such ingredients as have been officially approved by the United States Pure Food Authorities.

Contains more than the ordinary leavening strength—therefore you use less. It goes farther—lasts longer. That's why it is used by more leading chefs, Domestic Scientists, Restaurants, Hotels, Railroads than any other brand on earth.

A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 oz. Some baking powders come in 12 oz. cans instead of 16 oz. cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

A suit is "brought in" by taking a trick with each remaining card held of that suit, the adversaries' trumps having been exhausted.

A suit cannot be "brought in" unless it has been "established," but a suit is frequently "established" which is not "brought in." To bring in an "established" suit, the holder of it must have the lead, and the trumps against him must be exhausted.

Dummy

As soon as the player to the left of the declarant has led, the next player to the left, the declarant's partner, shall place his cards face up on the table. The declarant then plays the hand.

Before placing his cards upon the table, the declarant's partner has all the rights of a player, but after doing so he takes no part whatever in the play, except that he has the right to:

1. Ask the declarant whether he holds any of a suit renounced.
2. Call the declarant's attention to the fact that too many or too few cards have been played to a trick.
3. Correct the claim of either adversary to a penalty to which the contestant is not entitled.
4. Call attention to the fact that a trick has been erroneously taken by either side.
5. Participate in the discussion of any disputed question of fact after it has arisen.
6. Correct an erroneous score.

These Laws for Dummy are strictly enforced.

Etiquette

Etiquette plays a most important part at the card table. To offend against etiquette is far more serious than to offend against a law. In the latter case the offender is subject to the prescribed penalties. In the former his adversaries have no redress.

In bidding, the declarations should be made in a simple manner, for example "One spade," "One no-trump," "Pass," "No," "Double." They should be made orally, and not by gesture. Aside from his legitimate declaration, a player should in no way indicate the nature of his hand, or his pleasure or displeasure at a play, a bid, or a double. A player should not play a card with such emphasis as to draw attention to it.

There are many conventions and many localisms that creep into the game, but the author finds the experts use but few, and therefore none are given in these articles.

The foregoing article is somewhat in the nature of repetition, but many players even those who have been playing Auction Bridge for a long time, do not seem to understand these most important phases of the game.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. In bidding, does the number of tricks or the value of tricks count? For instance, if one person bid two spades, would another have to bid three or four clubs to make a higher bid?

A. Numerically higher. Three clubs, three diamonds, or three hearts beat two spades, or even two no-trumps.

After Sickness What You Need is Vinol

Here is Proof:—Moodus, Conn.—"The 'Flu' left me run-down with a weak heart and stomach, so I would often have sinking spells, and it was hard for me to keep around and do my housework. No matter what I took I did not seem to gain, but one day I read about Vinol in a paper and decided to try it. I soon felt better, and it has built me up so fast that I can truly say it is the finest remedy known. RED CROSS WILL HANDLE FUNDS FOR STRICKEN RUSSIA

Any persons, having friends or relatives in Russia, to whom they wish to send money for the purchase of food can do so through the local Red Cross, office, according to the work-ers.

Food drafts for $10 or multiples thereof can be purchased and these will be forwarded to Russia. One quarter of the amount sent will be used to feed destitute children, and the remainder will go to the person designated by the sender. If the person designated cannot be found in 90 days the money will be refunded. The drafts can also be used entirely for the feeding of children, if the sender wishes.

This is, therefore, a general opportunity to contribute to the Russian famine sufferers. The money is handled by the American Relief Administration under Secretary Herbert Hoover, which guarantees that it will be efficiently spent.

Two or more persons can club together to buy one of the drafts, or they may be bought by organizations. The money appropriated by Congress will begin to relieve all the famine sufferers, others are still dependent for their lives on private contributions. Miss Louise Shaffer, at the Red Cross office in the Court House will be glad to give further particulars.

NEARLY ONE HALF OF BONUS CLAIMS FILED FOR GREENE COUNTY

Officials of Foody Post, American Legion, with a corps of typists and workers went to Jamestown, Monday afternoon, to handle claims for payment of adjusted compensation.

It was estimated, Monday, that practically the claims of half the ex-service men in the county have so far been filed. Many more will be taken care of in this week's trips, which will take the workers to Cedarville, Tuesday, Yellow Springs, Wednesday and Wilberforce, Thursday.

For the benefit of those who have not had their claims filed, the workers will return here the latter part of this week, and finish the work. The blanks will be sent in as soon as all are in, and local men are promised their bonus checks sometime after Feb. 1, as soon as they can be filled out and returned.

BEAVER CADETS TO MEET BORINGS

Xenia basketball fans will have their first opportunity of seeing the Beaver Cadets, composed of the famous Brill Brothers, perform on the court here this season, Wednesday night, when the Alpha aggregation meets the Borings at the rink.

The Brill brothers, need no introduction to local court enthusiasts. The team composed of four brothers has been making a name for itself for the last several years, and is now rated high in this section. Homer Brill is a first-water star, with Homer Brill, at the other forward, a close second, while Harry and Lawrence at the guards, are unbeatable. Bill Kitt, an elongated gentleman, makes the jump hard for opposing centers.

The Cadets have been going good this season by defeating the crack N. C. R. team of Dayton, and the McCook Field Flyers as well as other teams. On the other hand, the Borings have had but one set-back, and have improved visibly in each succeeding game. Captain Solowitz and his book-ies are promising the visitors a real game for the main event Wednesday.

In a preliminary the newly organized Boring Juniors, composed of such players as Hendrickson, Reutinger, Arnold Lackey and others, will tangle with the Bruson Booties, the opener to start at 7:15 o'clock.

Mrs. Lewis, who was sixty-two years of age January 18, had been a resident of Xenia, for the past twenty years. She is survived by her husband, and three children, James, Mattie and Harry, all of Xenia. She was a member of the Latter Day Saints denomination.

Ford Experimenting on Cotton Bodies For His Cars; Sees Change

Boston, Mass., Jan. 17—Roger Babson, back from a visit with Henry Ford at the latter's laboratories, asserts that he saw Ford at work on a process for the making of automobile bodies out of a composition consisting mainly of cotton. Babson says he saw a mound of a sticky putty-like substance in the Detroit experimental establishment.

"What is that stuff?" he says he asked Ford.

"That is a mixture of formaldehyde, glue and cotton," was the reply.

"And what are you intending to do with it?"

"Automobiles," was the answer.

"It is Ford's purpose to make a lighter and a cheaper automobile," Mr. Babson asserted. "So he goes to cotton. He works out a mixture for cottonoid. A durable, tough, long wearing material. If he is successful, he will in time block out automobiles much after the manner that a cook stamps out doughnuts. He believes his ideas will result in a greater revolution in the automobile industry than has the flivver."

The statistician says Mr. Ford disclosed to him the belief that the day of the heavy automobiles is about over. His complaint is that an engine is forced to carry at all times a great superfluous load, a constant waste.

"I was in Detroit at Thanksgiving time," said Mr. Babson. "Before dinner was served, Ford said to his wife:

"Remember 17 years ago, when you and I tramped the streets to get a chicken for our Thanksgiving dinner, and not a store would trust us?"

"And after a moment he continued, 'and I paid the United States government $76,000,000 in taxes last year.'"

Ford, wouldn't be surprised, he is quoted as saying, if people lived in cottonoid houses, rode in cottonoid trains and worked in cottonoid shops 17 years from now.

"Everyone thinks Ford wants Muscles to produce fertilizer," says Babson. "It is my opinion that he wants to turn out constituents for the marking of aluminum for certain parts of his automobiles."

HENRY CLEWS

Weekly Financial Review

NEW YORK, January 16, 1922.

Announcement that an international consortium will be formed for the purpose of rehabilitating Russian trade has been the principal outcome of the deliberations at Cannes. Discussion of the details connected with the organization of this enterprise is apparently to constitute the staple of the proceedings now planned for the Genoa conferences. With this the United States, according to unofficial announcements from the White House, is in accord. There is now every prospect that we shall be suitably represented at Genoa, and that at least a beginning will be made toward working out of the present impasse in foreign economic affairs. This prospect has greatly tended to help the foreign exchange and investment situation during the past week.

Definite figures for the month of November now show the earnings of Class I roads of that month were approximately $66,000,000 or about 3.8 per cent. This is not a brilliant showing, but when it is remembered that the roads are now feeling the effects of the rate reductions of last autumn, and when allowance is made for the various difficulties with which they have been struggling, the result is creditable.

Factors in Business Growth

The business, and particularly the manufacturing situation, continues to show many factors of growth. Monthly tonnage returns for the Steel Corporation, although indicating a slight falling off in orders, nevertheless is encouraging because of the substantial degree of activity at mills which, in the expectation of better business, has been continued and is, therefore, reducing the volume of orders on hand and unfilled to a limited extent. The halt in activity, which usually occurs around the holiday season, is now over in many lines, and manufacturing for spring orders has begun.

Reduction in Money Costs

This week has seen call money rates at a lower level than at any time during the last two years. Interesting in this connection also has been the decline of the acceptance rate, which has usually been taken to foreshadow a further cut in rediscount charges. Such reductions have already taken place at the system as a whole is moving towards a lower level of money cost. Meantime, the continued recession of bills held which was interrupted for a short time around the holidays has recommenced. All of the larger city banks of New York, as well as many in other places, are now out of debt to the reserve banks, and managers of some of them assert that they see no immediate prospect of their needing further accommodation. With a continued high reserve ratio, amounting to 74.7 per cent for this week, and a stock of specie now considerably above $3,000,000,000, the reserve system occupies what appears to be an impregnable position, while business as a whole has to-day better access to both short and long term accommodations than any time since the war.

Bonds and Taxes

The positive announcement that a legislative programme, including a soldiers' bonus and a ship subsidy measure, has been decided upon brings to the front the immediate necessity of contemplating the issue of new bonds by the government, or else the imposition of taxes additional to those now in force. Savings effected through

Market Review and Outlook

The market continues to give evidence to being a sold out affair. As a matter of fact, it was pretty well demonstrated that liquidation had run its course last year. The uncovering of weak spots here and there due to financial reverses, as a result of the very trying conditions which the country has passed through, is something that must be looked for, but except in a few instances it is now pretty well understood that important industrial concerns have their affairs well in hand. To be sure, it will take some time before really healthy trade conditions will be restored; still, signs are not lacking that business in many directions is on the mend and that it is now only a question of a few months before the wheels of industry will again be actively revolving. It is based on this belief that holders of industrial stocks refuse to part with them. So far as railroad stocks are concerned, the conferences going on between the executive heads and the employees, under the auspices of Secretary Hoover, are expected to remove the obstacles to further wage adjustments and the adoption of common sense working rules which will permit of the roads being operated on a more economical basis. As is well known, the floating supply of railroad shares is at no time large, and while at times they present an irregular appearance, it is noticeable that those of the stronger roads have a way of easily coming back whenever moderate buying orders are sent to the Board. While the present sluggish conditions continue, news of every description has no particular effect on market values, but great ease in money must have a favorable influence before long as the income returns from stocks and bonds are still very attractive compared with going rates on idle funds.

TO DELIVER TALK AT FARMERS' MEET

Chester Folck, of Yellow Springs is one of the "speakers from the field" who are to be featured in the program of Farmers' Week at the Ohio State University, Jan. 30, to Feb. 3. Mr. Folck will speak at the 2 o'clock hour on Wednesday, Feb. 1. He will address the Ohio Jersey Cattle Club.

Departing somewhat from the former practice, college officials have this year made special effort to seek out as Farmers' Week speakers men who are working on farm problems first hand, in Ohio. Counting such farmers, rural school teachers, preachers and community leaders who are on the programs of the 17 state farm and farm life organizations slated to hold annual meetings during the week, there are listed to deliver experience talks and report more than 75 persons other than members of the University faculty, experiment station staff or Ohio farm bureau force. In all the Farmers' Week program comprises 285 events and lists almost 200 individual speakers and entertainers.

College officials predict that the 6,000 attendance record hung up at Farmers' Week, 1921, will be equalled if not exceeded, this year.

The youths are alleged to have made a number of chicken pilfering expeditions, stealing from five to 15 chickens on each occasion. YOU—H. B.

As the Old Year crept silently out of the back way of my life, I told it goodbye. And then I turned to the New Year that came in by the front way—and shook hands with it and told it how glad I was to see so ruddy and happy a young fellow.

Then to the great God I said this prayer: Please make me a better Human Being this year!

If we aren't good Human Beings we can never hope to be good citizens or good workers or good friends. The greatest art in the world is to prove yourself a good Human Being. And it's the simplest, too.

Just be yourself with all your heart. That's all.

But use your heart a great deal. I have noticed that those who are the worst in the affairs of every day are those who are not good Human Beings.

Think what a world this would be if each of us, on awakening in the morning, would repeat this brief prayer to the Father of all: Please make me a good Human Being today.

Good Human Beings are simple and sincere, so true blue, so anxious to help serve. And they are so full of tender thoughtfulness toward everyone seeming always to keep brightly burning an open fire-place, warming all who come near with their love.

It is sad to see high talents wasted on the highways, but it is sadder to see great hearts chilled by wonderful intellects. For after all we are every one of us seeking after heart companionship—that which alone is able to nourish our Human Being souls.

Walk with me in my heart, O friend, I can show you so many interesting and beautiful places. I can lead you to where natural springs are trickling their cool waters, ready for your thirst. I can point you to where flowers are brilliant in color and sweet in perfume. I can even tell you a little about how God thinks.

You—Human Being? You mean so much to me. I would try so hard to make you happier.

But the only way for us all to grow more and more human and full of understanding is to study and emulate every human ideal wherever we find it. And then pass it along

ANSWERED LETTERS

Thankful—Massage the legs and ankles vigorously every day which will reduce their size. Exercise such as basket ball, running and hopping will also aid.

Bobby—Increase the amount of hair you have by improving the condition of your scalp. This may be sometimes accomplished through daily massaging of the scalp. A good tonic applied several times each week will also hasten the improvement.

Scrubbing the teeth with coarse salt is severe treatment and irritating to the gums. There are many number of good preparations on the market that will not only cleanse the teeth but will keep the gums healthy.

Hopeful—As the Pilocarpine tonic has done so much for you, the lack of response in that small spot could indicate that some of your hair is dead and will not respond to any treatment. If this is so it will drop out as new hair grows which should not take very long, since your whole head of hair is showing improvement.

Charity—Consult the doctor about this trouble. Temporary relief is often obtained by using a sepository made from anything that is sweet such as stick candy. An enema of very warm water is also a help.

N. L. J.—It is not an unusual thing for a girl of your age to have a few pimples occasionally. Do not overtax your digestive system by eating between meals and take a warm bath every day.

J. N.—At this season of the year the skin is very easily bleached. An application of lemon juice should do this. Follow up by using cold cream, as any acid neutralizes the secretions and would leave the skin parched unless some oil was supplied. You can fatten the legs by massaging them with cocoa butter, which should be done regularly to show results.

A Young Wife—I shall be glad to mail you a formula for a hair tonic that is helping hundreds of others with this same problem of the hair turning grey prematurely. Send a stamped addressed envelope and repeat the request.

Black Eyed Susan—As you say your shoulders, back, hips and under arms are too stout and show that you need a general reduction, which can be accomplished by rearranging the diet. If you are interested in it, send a stamped addressed envelope for full directions.

Mrs. C. S. B.—It sometimes happens that the hair falls out after childbirth, though new hair should grow again. If yours is not recovering, send a stamped addressed envelope for my hair tonic formula.

Efficient Housekeeping

By Laura A. Kirkman

ANSWERED LETTERS

Answer: To try out beef fat for frying, cut it in small pieces and let it stand overnight in cold salted water. Then drain, add one cup of cold water to each two pounds of fat, and cook gently on the back of the range or in the oven until the fat is clear, all bubbling has ceased, until the "crackling" or "scrapple" is crisp and brown. Then strain it through a cloth into a pail or can, allow it to harden, and store until needed for frying, in a cool place.

With the right care, fat will last as long as a drop of it is left. After using your fat for the frying of doughnuts, for instance, put it through a fine strainer or a clean cloth when it is nearly cold and store it once more in the can. After being used several times, it will not brown the foods well and, when cooked, they will have a slightly unpleasant taste.

It must then be "clarified." This is done by heating it with a little baking soda and a few slices of raw potato, when the potato has become brown the fat is clarified.

All kinds of croquettes and fritters can also be cooked in this fat. Ham, bacon, sausage and chicken fat should not be put into the frying kettle, but should be kept for trying in a skillet.

Working Man's Wife: "My husband's wages are not very high and I have to be as careful as I can about the table. We can't afford butter every day, and yet I think my children need fats in their meals, isn't that so? What other fats, cheap fats, can I use instead?"

Answer: I think you are a clever manager, reader friend. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my article on "The Composition of the Various Foods." This article has a column of the various fats that can be used as butter-substitutes and it will help you to give your children a well-balanced menu. Butter is not needed on the table, if the housekeeper will serve fats in some other form. Suet is a cheap fat and if I were you I would serve a suet pudding on the days when you don't have butter. Tomorrow I will publish, in this column, a page of recipes in which suet may be used. I believe that other women, too, may find it helpful. And save the fats from your meats, too, as described above in answer to "Young Housekeeper's" letter. Have you ever made Carrot Marmalade? This is a fine, inexpensive marmalade to spread on the children's bread to make it taste better, when butter is not served—although of course it is not a fat. Here is the recipe:

Carrot Marmalade: Scrape two pounds of raw carrots and put them through the food chopper or chop finely by hand. (There should be one quart of this chopped carrot.) Now add to it the grated rind and juice of two lemons and also of two oranges, being sure to get in all the thick white part beneath the yellow skin as this white part makes the marmalade thick. Next add three cups of granulated sugar and set aside to stand over night—this takes away the carrot-taste and makes it seem like orange marmalade. In the morning put this mixture in a galvanized or porcelain kettle and boil it, adding no water unless at the very end, when the mixture may become dry; it should boil slowly until thick and transparent—and this will be after two hours and a half, about Cool and serve.

HELEN HUNTER'S HUSBAND

BY JANE PHELPS

A NEW SUIT CHAPTER 15

After the monthly bills were paid, the rent in advance, and a pair of shoes bought for himself, Jack gave Helen all but the spending money he must have to get about with. He told her:

"Be careful with it, dear. It may be some time before I land another big prospect."

"Nonsense! Now that you have started you'll do all right! I can get a dress and a hat and some other things I need: white gloves—all the women I know wear white kid, and I have been sticking to black because they don't have to be cleaned."

"Better stick a little longer, Honey. Don't get carried away with the idea that we are millionaires just because I have had one good month." Yet even as he spoke Jack Hunter was imbued with the idea that he had turned the corner at last. He was naturally optimistic, and inclined to discount future difficulties because of present success.

He said nothing of his own need of a new suit. He would get that later it was Helen who brought the subject up.

Mrs. Layton is giving a party, Jack, and she has invited us," Helen said at breakfast.

"I'm glad my dinner coat looks decent," he returned.

"You can't wear it! She particularly told me not to have you dress. She said the men would all be in business clothes. It isn't a dressy affair."

"My dress suit is pretty shabby."

"Get a new one! Surely you need it badly enough."

"I can't Helen! That is unless you can give back enough."

"The idea! I shall have hardly enough to get what I need. Have it charged and pay next month. Your tailor will trust you."

"No, dear! I shall not run in debt for clothes. My business is too uncertain. Then if I do get money I dislike tremendously to owe it all."

"But you can't go in that old shiny suit. I want to wear the new afternoon dress. I ordered, and everyone will look nice even if they don't dress. You must get the suit." The stubborn look he so dreaded came into her face. "Men not half as clever as you are keep their families well, and look nice themselves I won't be mortified by having you look shabby. Howard Dunn is going, and Mr. and Mrs. Horton, and several other couples, all good dressers."

"I shall wear what I have or stay at home." There was finality in Jack's voice. He would not fight Helen about her expenditures more than was absolutely necessary, but for himself he would not be coerced. "I am doing all I can—and more."

"If you really loved me you wouldn't embarrass me before my friends." Tears were in her voice. "I'd rather be dead than live in the half way fashion you seem to like."

"I don't like it, Helen, any better than you do. But, dear, why be unhappy over little things? And we are a long time dead, dear." Jack replied gayly, but with no feeling of gayety in his heart. "Then too, I shall lose my evening's work—perhaps I could be excused."

"Perhaps you couldn't! They are all sorry for me now because you never take me anywhere. I hate to be pitied!" She burst into tears and ran from the room, slamming the door. Jack followed her. He hated so to see her unhappy, to see her cry. He tried, but he could not bring himself to ignore her outburst.

He could not quiet her however until he promised to get a new suit, a ready-made one, so that he could make a good appearance at the party. He felt he was making a mistake; making things harder for the future yet when she clung to him reiterating her love for him, her pride in him, he held her closely in his arms, and thought that hard work, debts nothing mattered so he had her love. And satisfied her.

He bought the suit and she was enthusiastic in her praise of his appearance.

"You are awfully handsome when you are well groomed Jack! I shall be so proud of you at the party," she said when he tried it on for her benefit.

Elbinger Earnings

For the past six years, 1915 to 1920 inclusive, averaged in excess of 125% per year on the common shares then outstanding

The Elbinger Shoe Manufacturing Company's new issue of 8% cumulative convertible, preferred stock is being offered together with their no-par value common stock in units of one share preferred and one share common, price $130 per unit.

THE Elbinger Shoe Manufacturing Company, of Lebanon, Ohio, makers of women's medium priced shoes, have been in business for over ten years. They have grown from a small concern to one with a capacity of a half million pairs of shoes yearly.

Their earnings have shown a substantial and steady growth, due to wise management, a good merchandising policy and a product of constant quality. Even in 1920, a difficult and perplexing year for many shoe manufacturers, this company's earnings were almost four times the preferred dividend requirements on the present issue.

At present there are a number of orders on their books, for large quantities of shoes, from some of the biggest mail order houses and retail organizations in the country. This 8% preferred issue has been drawn up with various attractive provisions and numerous safeguards. One share of the preferred stock may be converted into two shares of common stock at the holder's option any time before January, 1928. Preferred dividends of 2% are payable quarterly. These shares are redeemable at 110. The executives' salaries have been limited until the common stock will have paid 100%. SEND for our illustrated booklet.
